WHERE AFTER-SCHOOL
FRIENDSHIPS ARE FORGED ⚡

As you prepare for the new school year, you may be looking for after-school enrichment activities that can build your child's social and communication skills, fostering a sense of connection and belonging.

Our after-school music programs offer students far more than just basic instrument skills. At School of Rock, children can experience profound benefits in overall child development by boosting self-confidence, joining a supportive peer community and creating lifelong friendships.

An independent study commissioned by School of Rock revealed that 95.9% of parents acknowledged improvement in their child's teamwork skills, and 89.3% of parents reported that their child experiences a stronger desire for engaging with others since enrolling in our music programs.*

School of Rock is a place to connect—where kids build confidence, belong to a supportive community and learn to collaborate as a team.
